Dear Friends,

A room decorated with green paint apparently calms the mood, whether it is our workspace or even a prison cell. Harvest time may not seem relevant to modern life, where so much food is available all the time, but we depend on the greenness of the world, with the delicate balances of water, soil, air, light, and living things. When we are mindful of the natural world, and look, really look, perhaps at the pattern of a leaf, or the curling branches of a tree, or clouds forming patterns above, it does us good. The Genesis story tells us that at each stage of creation, God saw it was good. So let's look up from our phones and breathe in beauty. It will do us good. In worship together we can give thanks, and in our lives we can share the world's resources with those who struggle to find enough.

In Christ,
Rev. Stephen

The Discovery Group offers an open invitation to explore some so-called 'hard questions'. Wednesday 10th of September is the first of these fortnightly events from 11.00am to midday. Refreshments will be readily available. Acceptance, informality, friendship, care set the tone. Together the plan is to promote understanding, awareness and empathy. Here is a genuine invitation to informal conversations encouraging us to listen, speak out and think. We will explore such things as our doubts and concerns encouraging kindness and support. This new venture welcomes all our neighbours; please do consider bringing a friend with you too. Looking forward to meeting on 10th September.

Monday 22nd September from 7.00pm. The Men's Curry Club This increasingly popular social event welcomes those who enjoy a convivial evening at Hampton Spice restaurant.

Saturday 27th September 10.30 - 13.00
MACMILLAN COFFEE MORNING.

Do please join us, your local group, be part of the national campaigning fund raising event. The funds raised support the Macmillan Nurses. The charity makes possible help for families facing a loved one with cancer. These professional nurses provide care of the highest standard wherever it is needed. By taking part you will be buying homemade cakes and goodies, sitting with friends over coffee in the garden, enjoying good company too. Why not come wearing something bright green? This calming colour encapsulates the charity. You will be helping make an important difference. Thank you.

SUNDAY 5TH OCTOBER HARVEST LUNCH - bring-a-dish to share. Let's celebrate in a traditional way at Harvest. Let's share our good fortune. Let's 'break bread together' for the benefit of others. Years ago families brought what they had grown to share, to give thanks to have a party. For the most part the supermarkets provide for us from all over the world. Not everyone is so well provided for. This year we will be supporting Christian Aid's Appeal - A Harvest of Hope!

All gifts will be welcome and used to feed the people of Gaza and other less well publicised areas where people are desperate. Even if you can't be with us please consider making a harvest gift. Thank you.
